GENDER DISCRIMINATION

Many people encounter discrimination in their daily lives. Over the course of your life, have you ever experienced discrimination because you are a woman? That is, in your lifetime, how often have you been prevented from doing something, or have been hassled or made to feel inferior in any of the following situations because you are a woman? Please say never, once, or more than once.

In your lifetime, how often have you experienced gender discrimination…?

IF NECESSARY, SAY:

Here we are asking specifically about gender discrimination, not any other type of discrimination such as racial discrimination, religious discrimination, sexual orientation discrimination or other types of discrimination. This question only refers to gender discrimination. Please base your answers on what gender discrimination means to you.

SEXUAL HISTORY

The next set of questions focus on some of your personal experiences with dating relationships and sex. Some of the questions are very personal, but they are very important for us in understanding the full range of women's experiences. Please remember that your answers are confidential and will never be linked to your name. You can also choose not to answer any question, we will just move on.

[NOTE TO INTERVIEWERS: IF RESPONDENT QUERIES ABOUT TRANSGENDER PARTNERS, PROMPT:] Please base your answer on how your partner identified during your relationship. If they transitioned during your relationship, please classify them in the way that is most meaningful to you.

The next set of questions asks about dating, romantic and sexual relationships. We’ll begin by asking about a main partner. For this survey, a main partner is someone you have sex with and consider to be the most significant sexual partner in your life right now. If there is more than one person you have sex with, your main partner could be the one who is most important to you, or the one you think you are most likely to stay with in the future.

SH9 Do you currently have a main partner?

PARTNER RISK

We know that women sometimes know quite a lot about their sex partners; other times, even if the relationship is very close, they might know less. Sometimes, we know things about our partners with great certainty; other times, we have to guess. Please say whether the answer to each of the following questions about your current main partner is definitely yes, probably yes, probably no, or definitely no.

[INTERVIEWER PROMT, IF NECESSARY:] Would you say that statement is definitely yes, probably yes, probably no, or definitely no.

Intimate Partner Violence

Many women experience violence from their partners. I'd like to ask now about violence you may have experienced. This is a sensitive topic and some people feel uncomfortable with these questions. Please remember, you don't have to answer a question if you don't want to and that your phone number was chosen at random and your answers are strictly confidential. If you believe it would not be safe for you to talk about this right now, remember you can call the following number 1-800-548-2722 when you feel more comfortable or I can arrange to call back at a more convenient time. NON-PARTNER SEXUAL VIOLENCE

I'd like to ask you some questions about sexual violence from people other than an intimate partner. Some people feel uncomfortable with these questions. Remember that your answers are strictly confidential and you don’t have to answer a question if you don't want to. For these questions I'd like you to think about people OTHER THAN main partners or people you were dating, think about people such as friends, acquaintances, family members or strangers.

CERVICAL CANCER / HPV

Now, I would like to ask you some questions about HPV, the virus that causes cervical cancer and genital warts. Nearly fifty percent of young women who have sex will become infected with HPV. Not having sex is the only way to prevent getting HPV. While condom use may help reduce the risk of getting HPV, it is not fully protective.

A new vaccine is available. This vaccine has been shown to be generally well tolerated and highly effective in protecting young women from becoming infected with the types of HPV infections that are most likely to cause cervical cancer and genital warts. If the vaccine is given to girls before they start to have sex or soon after they start having sex, the vaccine could significantly reduce the risk of getting HPV and developing cervical cancer. For the vaccine to work you have to take three injections over a 6-month period. If your daughter is between the ages of 9 and 18 years old then the vaccine is free. If your daughter is younger than 9 and older than 18 then the vaccine will cost $360 for all three injections.

If R has more than one daughter, say: Thinking now about your OLDEST daughter, please answer yes or no to the following questions.
