Empowerment Resource Center Presents: 2014 Annual Capacity Building Series

Exploring Realistic Expectations: The Implications of TasP, PrEP, and PEP

ATLANTA (July 1, 2014) – Empowerment Resource Center (ERC) will sponsor their annual capacity building series entitled “Exploring Realistic Expectations: The Implications of TasP, PrEP and PEP” as an integral part of our World AIDS Day Campaign. Registration is now open for the symposium, which will be hosted on December 3-4, 2014 at the Loudermilk Conference Center in Atlanta, Georgia. The purpose of the symposium is to engage medical and allied health professionals in an interactive, informative, and more accurate discussion about TasP (Treatment As Prevention), PrEP (Pre-exposure Prophylaxis) and PEP (Post Exposure Prophylaxis). The symposium will feature an impressive keynote from Dr. Joycelyn Elders, the 15th Surgeon General of the United States, the first African American and the second woman to head the United States Public Health Service. It will be available for all medical and allied health professionals, as well as residents, fellows, medical and nursing students.

“We are so excited to be offering this opportunity to all who are interested across the nation”, says Jacqueline Brown, Executive Director of Empowerment Resource Center. “We are seeing a high level of enthusiasm from our speakers and sponsors for this unique conference and we are looking forward to sharing our knowledge with the attendees.”

Interested participants may register online at www.2014expectations.eventbrite.com or contact ERC via email at info@erc-inc.org or by calling (404) 526-1145. A discount of $225 / $175 is available for attendees who register on or before 31 October.
